MANY GREETED LONG

Fort Scott Gives Future Senator a Rousing Welcome.

MADE MANY NEW FRIENDS

Great Reception Also Given to Him at Iola.

(Special Correspondence of The Eagle.)

Fort Scott, Kan., Oct. 12.—In this historic old frontier Kansas town Bourbon county Republicans held a rousing meeting Saturday night, addressed by Senator J. Long and T. A. Nottzger. The latter is state senator from the Thirty-seventh district.

Mr. Long spent the entire day here. He met the Bourbon Republicans, to most of whom he was a stranger. He has many good friends here, however, and has spoken here before. This enabled him to command interest and attention in addition to that accorded him as one of the leading public men of Kansas, and as a successful campaigner. Mr. Long visited around during the day, being taken about town by his friends. After supper and before the time of the meeting, Mr. Long and Senator Nottzger were taken to the headquarters of the county central committee where for a half hour they met a hundred of the active Republican workers of the county. These men gave the Seventh district representative a pleasant and enthusiastic welcome.

Mr. Long again discussed the question of reciprocity with Cuba, the tariff and trusts. He also emphasized the necessity for being watchful and alert in this campaign, getting out the Republican vote; beware of apathy; voting straight tickets and paying special attention to the legislative and county tickets. His attention to these local matters was highly pleasing to the Bourbon Republicans, as Mr. Long was the first speaker from abroad who had pointed out these things to them, and paid attention to local matters. His speech was well received and he made many new friends.

Senator Nottzger spoke briefly in advance of Mr. Long. He devoted some time to state issues and discussed the question of taxation and assessment. He then made a rousing Republican talk, full of snap and vim, and had the crowd in excellent trim when Mr. Long took it in charge. Senator Nottzger is one of the best short speakers in this campaign.

Bourbon Republicans have not always been noted for harmony. This year harmony is the watchword, however, and every fellow is in line. There is a three-fourths county committee, in the first place, with good officers and hard-working party men at its head and in the membership. Then there are several local state committees who have laid aside past differences and are this year thoroughly united. Add to these two elements the active, sympathetic workers all over the county, and it will readily be seen that Republicans of this county are not indulging in mere talk when they say what they intend to do this fall.

Daniel F. Campbell and Dr. William Baird are the legislative nominees in Bourbon county. Campbell is running in the city district; Baird in the country. Campbell was a member of the house of 1898. He is a lawyer and a hustler. Baird is popular in the county, and each will surely be elected. Each is making a thorough, systematic campaign. There is no social preference on senator, aside from the fact that neither is for Curtis. The probability is that when the caucus is held both Campbell and Baird will look with favor on Long.

Grant Hornaday, young, wealthy, ambitious, clever, in chairman of the county committee. He is a busy man. He is editor of the Fort Scott right-batter, and he is a lawyer and organizer. He was Stanley's first president of the board of charities, and has future aspirations. Hornaday is a good man for his present position.

Another citizen of Fort Scott who takes an active interest in Republican politics, and who is one of the city's most respected and leading men, is Colonel F. H. Richards, general attorney for the Missouri Pacific road. Colonel Richards is particularly active this year in a local way and is doing good work.

The Rice family is an interesting one in Fort Scott. Old General John H. Rice was a Georgian and a Confederate soldier. He came to Fort Scott right after the war, and for years ran the Adity Monitor. In 1890 he ran for the legislature against his son, W. H. Rice, and was defeated. He ran as a Fusionist. The son was a Republican. W. H. Rice is now a special agent of the treasury department, and is in charge of a division at Niagara Falls. His work since 1897 in this capacity has taken him all over the world. R. F. Rice, another son, commonly known all over Kansas as "Pink" Rice, and still a third—"Hank"—are traveling representatives of well known paper houses, and are known in every town in Kansas.

Fort Scott is the old home of Eugene F. Ware, commissioner of pensions. Here Ware came shortly after the war, practiced law, wrote most of the "Ironclad" poems, was elected to the state senate and was a candidate for the nomination for congress in the Second district against Nicholas Furness. Ware was elected to the senate in the latter '90s, where he has since resided. He is still a matter of pride with Fort Scott, however.

Fort Scott is an historic old place. Set high on an elevation, overlooking the river valley, and to the east the state of Missouri, distant but a few miles, the town was built early in territorial history. It was a military and strategic point at first, and well so. In border-ruffian days it divided fame with Lawrence and Leavenworth. It has been famous in state history and in its class of citizens. It survived the war of the rebellion and territorial era far better than Lawrence, and is now a prosperous city.

BEYOND DOUBT.

The Facts Must Convince Every Wichita Reader.

The statement which follows tells the experience of a resident of Wichita. Incredulity cannot long exist about this testimony because it can easily be investigated.

Mrs. George Beale of 1607 North Meade avenue says: "I have not the slightest hesitation in saying that Doan's Kidney Pills procured at the Moore Drug Co., 218 East Douglas avenue, did me a world of good. For at least two years I never knew the moment when an attack of backache might seize me just across the joint, and when the pain attacks were at their height trouble with the kidney secretions existed. If anyone in Wichita receives as positive benefit as I kidney complaint in this locality will soon be a stranger."

Men who lead strenuous lives—the workers either with brain or body—must have food most healthful, best fitted to make strong bodies and clear brains. Hence Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is purchased for the Army and Navy, and is specially preferred in making the food of those who labor and think, men and women who must have physical and mental strength.

The lesson conveyed hereby is that Price's Baking Powder, which meets the very exacting requirements of these conditions, proves itself superior in all qualities which are essential to perfect cookery at home.

PRICE BAKING POWDER, CHICAGO, U. S. A.

Important commercially. Along its side runs the beautiful Marmaton river, about which "Gene" Ware has told us in song and story. Winding its way between hills and elevations, its placid waters screened and shaded by drooping and overlapping willows, even and tranquil and beautiful it runs, a fit inspiration for the genius and poetry of Ware.

F. C. Raney, a former Seventh district man, runs one of the three daily papers—the Republican. Raney formerly was editor of the Anthony Republican. He is secretary of the Republican state central committee and attended Long's meeting. The other papers are the Monitor, the old Rice paper, now owned by Colonel Richards, Judge Cheney and Professor Landwehr, and the Tribune, the opposition paper. All are good, lively, prosperous sheets.

Eldon R. Lowe, postmaster of Fort Scott, is an enthusiastic Republican worker. He is a son of Judge David P. Lowe of Fort Scott, who was representative in congress from the Second district from 1871 to 1875. Young Lowe himself was a candidate for the nomination in the famous Lawrence convention of 1890, which finally nominated "Jack" Harris of Ottawa and soundly "billy" Buchanan's political deathrill.

CURES THE KIDNEYS

Kidney disease is the enemy we have most to fear as a result of the feverish haste of modern civilization. It is a treacherous enemy working out its deadly effect under cover of such trifling symptoms as headache, slight but persistent backache, dizziness, heart-throbbing, weak digestion, constipation, frequent or diminished passage of urine, scalding urine, sediment in urine.
